Maronite Liturgical Year

Consecration & Renewal of the Church.

Season of Glorious Birth of the Lord.

Season of the Glorious epiphany.

Season of the Great lent.

Hosanna Sunday & Passion Week.

Season of the Glorious Resurrection.

Season of Glorious Pentecost.

Season of the Glorious Cross

THE SANCTUARY LAMP

Is a vigil light burning 24/7 and kept near the Blessed Sacrament. The light indicates the unfathomable mystery of the Eucharistic presence of Jesus. It reminds us of the reverence due to the Sacrament. The burning light is a pious custom as a way of prolonging our adoration and prayer to honor His presence.

Sunday of the Consecration of the Church

Qurbono P. 7; Creed P. 748; Anaphora of St. Peter P. 774

The Sunday of the Consecration of the Church, the opening of the New Liturgical year, reminds us of the cleansing of the Temples of Jerusalem in the year 164 B.C. and the consecration of the people by the priests, after the death of the pagan Emperor Antiochus Epiphanius (I king 4:36-59). Jesus' words about the Temple, during his life, the tearing of the Temple curtain in two from top to bottom at his death, and the destruction of the Temple itself in the year 70 A.D., all these according to his prophecy, were clear signs that the time of the old Temple has passed. A New Covenant has emerged to replace the Old One and its perfect mediator is Jesus Christ and his new people—the Church who gathers all the nations of the earth, who always testifies to the presence of God within her and who proclaims that holiness is her sacred mission, because the Holy One who dwelled in her made her a community of saints.

On this Sunday of the Consecration, let us also consecrate our time and efforts to help build each other. The Consecration of the Church means the consecration of our lives and the lives of every member of our Christian Community. Peter and the apostles, along with many generations who followed, up to our time, have adorned the Church so we may be heirs of God's Kingdom. Let us, in turn, do our part, with the same zeal, in order to preserve it to the next generation
